Seminar on the architectural contest for the project of Campus Albertov – Biocentrum, Globcentrum

On September 16, 2015, a seminar for the potential participants in the architectural contest for the project of Campus Albertov was conducted, attended by Charles University Rector Tomáš Zima, architect V. Pleskot and academia members of Charles University faculties – Faculty of Science, First Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Mathematics and Physics, and other guests. The presentations and lectures by the sponsor’s representatives informed present architects and project designers on the message and expectations related to the architectural contest. Many interesting questions were raised during the discussion.

In the afternoon, there was a meeting of the sponsor’s representatives, the academia and representatives of students. Most part of the meeting involved general issues, such as the advantages of the facilities for future generations, funding of the facilities, their operations or equipment.
